A comprehensive resource designed for you!

Welcome to “Discover Madison County.” This annual guide for Madison County residents is styled by the publishers of Winterset Living magazine and paid for by the local businesses that advertise in these pages. It’s designed for easy readability and offers quick answers to common questions. Keep this community resource handy all year long; you’ll be glad you did.

In the pages that follow, you will find answers to day-to-day questions that come up in the community, but this is more than a standard directory. “Discover Madison County” offers information about your city council and school board representatives, a listing of area churches and information about local events planned for the upcoming year.

Be sure to patronize the local businesses and advertisers that helped make this effort possible. They know you have many options on how to spend your hard-earned dollars, and your loyalty is appreciated. We are a small business, too, and we value the long-standing relationships we have built.

If you would like additional copies, contact our distribution manager, Mike Chiston, at 515-953-4822 ext. 304 or email mike@dmcityview.com.

Of course, things change a lot within a year, so be sure to contact the individual groups listed here for updates. If you notice any errors, omissions, or if you have advice on something new you’d like to see, please contact our editor, Tammy Pearson, at 515-953-4822 ext. 302 or tammy@iowalivingmagazines.com.

And don’t forget to keep this guide where you can easily find it and refer to it often. Madison County has a lot to offer, so get out and enjoy it! ■

Madison County Board of Supervisors

There are three members on the Board of Supervisors, each elected by citizens in the county. Individuals serve overlapping four-year terms, with elections held every two years. The Board elects one of its members annually to chair its activities.

The board meets every second and fourth Tuesday at 10 a.m. at the Madison County Annex. Meetings are open to the public. To be placed on the Board's weekly agenda, contact the Board Office by the preceding Thursday of the meeting.

The Board of Supervisors has both legislative and administrative powers and is the policy-making body for Madison County government. With its authority to adopt legislation and policies for department operations, the Board sets priorities, allocates resources and maintains budgetary control.

The budget process is the most important power of the Board. By using the budget process effectively, the Board is able to monitor and correct inefficiencies in all organizational units, including elected departments, quasi-government organizations and administrative departments.

In addition to these responsibilities, the Board of Supervisors promotes and facilitates various cooperative efforts among and between other government entities and jurisdictions. Most importantly, the Board is available to its constituency and can respond to issues of importance to citizens. The Board also appoints individuals or serves on a number of Boards and Commissions that affect all aspects of Madison County operations.

Health care in Madison County

Being adjacent to Des Moines brings world-class health care to the residents of Madison County. Three major hospitals, as well as one of the largest medical colleges in the United States (Des Moines University), can be found a short drive away. Often, though, there's no need to travel, as excellent health care can be found in Madison County.

Madison County Health Care System consists of Madison County Memorial Hospital, the Earlham Medical Clinic and the Health Trust Physicians Clinic in Winterset.

The hospital offers in-house comprehensive orthopaedic care, general surgery, rehabilitation therapy and chronic disease management. Also serving patients locally are almost 20 additional visiting specialists representing the fields of audiology; cardiology; dermatology; ears, nose and throat; neurology; obstetrics and gynecology; oncology; pain management; podiatry and urology.

The community as a whole values healthy living, and many activities and wellness programs are available to the public. A fully staffed and active parks and recreation department is found in Winterset, and other communities in the county also offer recreational opportunities. These programs offer a variety of youth and adult programs.

An active Madison County Conservation Commission with full-time staff schedules many varied activities throughout the year for all ages to share the beautiful parks and resources found in Madison County. There are also several walking, running and biking events held annually in Madison County. A community dog park was recently added in Winterset, and typically an annual "dog jog" is held where family pets can get in on the fun, too.

Whether you call Madison County home or are simply passing through, there are a rich variety of resources ready to meet your health care and wellness needs. ■

CITIES OF MADISON COUNTY

Earlham

Located just south of I-80 on the northern edge of Madison County, Earlham's greatest claim to fame may be Marion Michael Morrison, a.k.a. John Wayne, who lived in Earlham as a boy in the early 1900s. He attended school in the Earlham Academy Building that is now owned by the Earlham Historical Society, and his father, Clyde, owned a pharmacy in Earlham until poor health forced the family to move west.

Earlham Community Center

Today, Earlham is a thriving small town with all the benefits of a peaceful, rural landscape near one of the country's most desirable cities. Businesses in Earlham provide all the important conveniences of dining, banking, grocery shopping, health care and more, including an excellent school system. The completion of the Bricker-Price Block project, the rehabilitation of a historic two-building complex in the town center, gained national attention and brought even more amenities to the community.

EARLHAM CITY PARKS

- City Park: Earlham's City Park is located in the center of the city between N.E. Sycamore, N.E. Maple, E. Third and E. Second. The park features poles for volleyball nets, horseshoe pits, stage, playground, shelter house, picnic tables, tennis courts, basketball court, drinking fountains for people and dogs, and restrooms open during the season.
- Recreation Park: Located north of E. Sixth Street, the Recreation Park features a softball field, baseball field, three Little League fields, three soccer fields and the swimming pool.
- Gendler Park: This park features walking paths, two ponds, a dock, a grill and a dog park.

Macksburg

This small metropolis of about 100 residents lies in the southwest corner of Madison County and was incorporated in 1876. It was named for Doctor J.H. Mack, who donated the land for the town. The J.D. Craven Women’s Relief Corps #322 Auxiliary was organized in 1898. The WRC Hall is on the National Historical Register. The building was sold in 2003 to a resident of the town.

Macksburg was the home of the designer of the Martin B-10 Bomber used in WWI, Glenn Martin, who was born in 1886 in Macksburg.

CITIES OF MADISON COUNTY

St. Charles

Known as “The Gateway to the Bridges of Madison County,” St. Charles, located in the southeastern part of Madison County near I-35, presents visitors entering from the east with the Imes covered bridge as their introduction to the county’s treasures.

The town’s Old Settlers festival is steeped in the community’s history and provides the old-time family fun that rural Iowa towns have enjoyed and shared for generations. Visitors are encouraged to stop at the Welcome Center to learn more about the area’s attractions and to take time to enjoy the City Park.

St. Charles also features the Avenue of the Saints Amphitheater and Event Center. An outdoor event space with a maximum capacity of 18,000, the Center hosts music festivals and other events in St. Charles. This includes the annual Hinterland Music Festival, a three-day event that takes place the first full weekend of August. Hinterland has featured headliners such as Willie Nelson, Brandi Carlile and Kacey Musgraves.

ST. CHARLES PARKS

St. Charles has three park areas: Imes Covered Bridge Park on the eastern entrance; Old Settlers Park, located across the alley from St. Charles Lions Building; and City Park north of Main Street off Clark Street.

City Park had major upgrades in October 2020, thanks to grants, donations, volunteers and community pride. New playground equipment for younger kids and a new restroom were installed, as was Soaring Eagle Disc Golf Course, a project of Eagle Scout Jordan Hartfield and a crew of helpers. The park also features a basketball court, volleyball net, and, thanks to a recent update, a pickleball court.

ST. CHARLES CITY GOVERNMENT

The City is governed by a city council that includes the mayor and five council members. The term for mayor is two years with the council members having four-year terms that rotate to ensure continuity. The council meets at least one time per month with other special meetings taking place as needed. The normal council meetings take place on the first Monday of the month at 6:30 p.m. at City Hall.

A large mural was installed in 2014 to honor the 150th anniversary of Dr. Carver's birth. The mural, of hand-made ceramic tiles, is named "Dream Big Dreams." This public art project was a collaboration of local students, area educators/professionals, volunteers and donors. The mural honors Carver's love for education, art, nature and his dream to make a better world.

Madison County Development Group

Madison County Development Group is a 501(c)(6) nonprofit with organized economic development efforts by predecessor entities dating back at least 60 years. The group works on behalf of all Madison County citizens to increase economic activity and grow the tax base. Funding comes from private businesses and a variety of government entities — primarily Madison County and the City of Winterset. Madison County Development Group (MCDG) is governed by a board of directors made up of private industry representatives and representatives of local government.

Madison County has a bright future considering the southern expansion of West Des Moines. MCDG is working to make sure other parts of Madison County are attractive for investment as well.

MCDG annually reviews dozens of inquiries on the availability of land or existing buildings here in Madison County. These inquiries are generated locally, from the State of Iowa, Des Moines Partnership and other sources such as Iowa Area Development Group. It pursues prospects that match the capabilities existing in Madison County.

MCDG offers a variety of services to prospective and existing businesses of all sizes. It works with the Small Business Development Center to provide no charge business development advice. It operates its own low-interest Revolving Loan Fund covering Madison County supporting business and artistic ventures. It also assists local businesses in accessing several other revolving loan funds to augment and supplement the funding available from local banks.

MCDG coordinates with the Iowa Economic Development Authority updating our local laborshed study to keep employers up to date on trends in employment and salaries for a broad variety of job descriptions. MCDG co-sponsors activities with the Chamber such as the Hidden Madison County tours. MCDG also administers the Greater Madison County Community Foundation.

The Underground Railroad in Madison County

“Underground Railroad” is a term used to describe the activities of runaway slaves, now termed freedom-seekers, and those who assisted them in escaping bondage to a location where they could live as free men and women. The work was illegal and done in secrecy, so exact dates, places, and number of slaves assisted are difficult to pinpoint, but Madison County researchers have identified seven freedom-seekers by name and more than 60 men and women who assisted them.

In Madison County, the Underground Railroad was active from 1857 through 1862. The work did not involve a railroad, as the railroad didn’t arrive in Madison County until 1872. Freedom-seekers came from northwestern Missouri and crossed into Iowa with the goal of reaching Polk or Jasper County. From there, they made their way to railways in eastern Iowa, then to Chicago, and finally on to safety in northeastern states or in Canada.

Under the threat of large fines and imprisonment, farmers and their families put their lives in danger in the effort to assist the freedom-seekers on their way through rural Madison County by providing food, shelter and transportation. From the accounts and early maps, we can plot their homes and trails used. Most of the trails used are still well-traveled roads in Madison County. The determination of all those involved is an inspiring example of courage, especially due to a sizeable number of Southern sympathizers in Madison County who made Underground Railroad activities even more challenging and dangerous.

Family members could foster very different views on slavery, as shown in this story. A Madison County farmer, James Farris, had a freedom-seeker at his door and, surprisingly, they recognized each other. The slave admitted he belonged to the farmer’s son-in-law in Missouri. The slave was given shelter by the family in the attic of their log cabin. Later the same day, who should appear but the son-in-law with a slave-hunting party. They were also accommodated for the night on the first floor, so slave and master slept under the same roof. In the new day, the hunting party was advised to continue in one direction while the slave was told to head to freedom in another direction. After a disappointing day, the son-in-law and his group stayed one more night before heading home without his $1,000 slave (nearly $30,000 today).

Madison County Parks

The Madison County Conservation Board manages 13 county parks, located primarily in rural areas throughout the county, that provide a myriad of recreational opportunities. Take the opportunity to explore the county's opportunities to enjoy the great outdoors.

Madison County Conservation Center

The new Madison County Conservation Center is a portal to the outdoors, providing an enriched understanding of natural resources through education, exploration and recreation. It serves to foster care about the natural beauty of Madison County — a landform known as the Southern Iowa Drift Plain, where rolling hills were formed from glacial till and molded by wind-blown loess soils and scouring rivers and streams.

Centrally located within Pammel State Park, the Conservation Center uses natural elements to tell a story about the legacy of our land and how it shaped our civilization.

Madison County has unmatched natural beauty — a landform known as the Southern Iowa Drift Plain — which deserves a conservation center that inspires awe with its natural environment. From its geology and forests, to its waterways, natural grasslands and wildlife, the extraordinary vision of the conservation center's planning and design envelops patrons in a sensory and educational experience of the land.

Middle River Park

Location: 2278 Clark Tower Road, Winterset, 1 mile south of Winterset on County Road P-71 with the entrance of the park directly across the highway from the Operations Center.

Facilities and features: Two-level picnic shelter, modern bathrooms, play equipment, canoe access to Middle River, hard-surfaced accessible trail.

Pammel Park

Location: 1900 Pammel Park Road, Winterset, 4 miles southwest of Winterset. Travel west on State Highway 92 for 1 mile, turn south on State Highway 322 for 3 miles.

Information: The Madison County Conservation Board's Environmental Education/Nature Center is located at Pammel Park. This former rural chapel has been transformed into a nature center where many environmental education programs are conducted by the Board's naturalist throughout the year.

A unique feature of the park is the Harmon Tunnel — the only highway tunnel in Iowa. In 1858, the tunnel was originally dug by William Harmon and his sons as a small chute to carry water diverted from the Middle River to power a sawmill that was eventually converted to a grist mill. The mill was abandoned in 1904, and the tunnel expanded in size to allow vehicle traffic in 1925. The tunnel has since been expanded and reinforced to accommodate modern vehicles.

Middle River makes a great horseshoe loop in the park. The dividing wall is called the backbone, which is a natural limestone ridge more than 100 feet high. When standing atop the backbone directly over the tunnel, you can see Middle River flow in all four directions. The geology of the backbone is as extensive as the plant life and well-worth exploring.

Facilities and features: Backbone Shelter, Pammel Lodge, picnic grounds, modern bathrooms, play equipment, trails, Middle River ford, Harmon Tunnel, modern campgrounds, cabins, dump station, and Nature Center activities.

Schildberg Access

Location: North side of Highway 92 approximately 10 miles west of Winterset.

Covered Bridges Scenic Byway

The Covered Bridges Scenic Byway offers visitors a journey into iconic America. The 82-plus mile route focuses on the iconic and widely-known covered bridges, as well as scenic natural areas, historical sites, cultural sites, and many other unique destinations. The Covered Bridges Scenic Byway is one of Iowa's 12 state-designated and two nationally designated scenic byways, which are a great way to experience Iowa's natural beauty, history and culture.

Byway maps and brochures are available at the Madison County Chamber of Commerce Welcome Center in Winterset, the St. Charles Welcome Center, and online at www.madisoncounty.com.

The Covered Bridges of Madison County

Madison County originally boasted 19 covered bridges, but just six remain today, five of which are listed on the National Register of Historic Places. The bridges were covered by order of the County Board of Supervisors to help preserve the large flooring timbers, which were more expensive to replace than the lumber used to cover the bridge sides and roof. Usually, the bridges were named for the resident who lived closest. The covered bridges are open to the public, and travelers can use a detailed map to do a self-guided tour of the structures. A map is available on www.madisoncounty.com and at the Chamber of Commerce/Welcome Center.

Roseman Covered Bridge

Built in 1883 by Harvey P. Jones and George K. Foster, it is 107 feet in length and sits in its original location. Roseman was renovated in 1992 at a cost of $152,515. In Robert James Waller's novel, "The Bridges of Madison County," and the movie of the same name, Roseman is the bridge Robert Kincaid seeks when he stops at Francesca Johnson's home for directions. It is also where Francesca leaves her note inviting him to dinner.

Also known as the "haunted" bridge, Roseman is where two sheriff's posses trapped a county jail escapee in 1892. It is said the man rose up straight through the roof of the bridge, uttered a wild cry, and disappeared. He was never found, and it was decided that anyone capable of such a feat must be innocent.

Holliwell Covered Bridge

Built in 1880 by Harvey P. Jones and George K. Foster, it is the longest covered bridge, spanning 110 feet. It remains in its original site over the Middle River southeast of Winterset. Holliwell was renovated in 1995 at a cost of $225,000. It is featured in "The Bridges of Madison County" movie.

Cedar Covered Bridge

Built in 1883 by Harvey P. Jones, Cedar Bridge was 78 feet long and was the last bridge open to vehicles. It was built over Cedar Creek north of Winterset on what is now U.S. Highway 169. It was moved to its present location over the same creek in 1921. In Robert James Waller's novel, "The Bridges of Madison County," Cedar Bridge is where Francesca Johnson goes to meet Robert Kincaid to help him take photographs. Cedar is also the bridge on the novel's cover. The bridge was renovated in 1998 at a cost of $128,073.

Cedar was destroyed by an arsonist on Sept. 3, 2002. A replica of the original bridge was built from the original plans using authentic materials and methods. Cedar was once again destroyed by arson in April of 2017. Rebuilding Cedar Bridge commenced in September of 2018 and was completed in October 2019.

Cutler-Donahoe Bridge

Built in 1871 by Eli Cox, the Cutler-Donahoe Bridge is 79 feet in length and features a pitched roof. Originally located over the North River near Bevington, it was moved to its present site in Winterset's City Park in 1970. Cutler-Donahoe was renovated in 1997 at a cost of $35,538.

Hogback Covered Bridge

Built in 1884 by Harvey P. Jones and George Foster, the Hogback Covered Bridge measures 97 feet and is in its original location in a valley north of Winterset. Hogback gets its name from the limestone ridge which forms the west end of the valley. It was renovated in 1992 at a cost of $118,810.

Imes Covered Bridge

The oldest of the remaining covered bridges, Imes was built in 1870 and is 81 feet in length. It was originally located over the Middle River west of Patterson. In 1887, it was moved to a spot over Clinton Creek southwest of Hanley. Imes Bridge was moved again to its present site over a natural ravine just east of St. Charles in 1977. It was renovated in 1997 at a cost of $31,807.

“The Bridges of Madison County” novel

Robert James Waller was a guitar-picker, photographer, ex-business school professor and author of the best-selling hardcover book of all time. In 1992, Warner Books published his first novel, “The Bridges of Madison County.” The 171-page hardcover novel has been translated into 25 languages, and more than 12 million copies have been sold worldwide. On the New York Times Best Seller list for three years (and No. 1 for 38 weeks), it topped “Gone with the Wind” in 1995 as the best-selling fiction book of all time.

The Movie

Robert Kincaid (Clint Eastwood) has come to Madison County, Iowa, in order to take pictures of the Roseman and Hollowell covered bridges. He is a professional photographer on assignment for National Geographic magazine in the fall of 1965, and he is lost. Pulling his green pickup into the driveway of a well-kept farmhouse, he stops to ask for directions. Francesca Johnson (Meryl Streep) is at home alone, her husband and two children having departed for four days to the Illinois State Fair. She has been married for 15 years, and the luxury of time to herself is an unusual break from her daily life, as is the courteous stranger approaching her for information.

These are the opening circumstances for an extraordinary story, adapted to the screen by Richard LaGravenese from Robert James Waller’s novel, “The Bridges of Madison County.” Directed by Clint Eastwood, produced by Eastwood and Kathleen Kennedy, and associate produced by Tom Rooker and Michael Maurer, it is the visual representation of two people coming to terms with their own lives through each other. The film is a narrative about love and choices and consequence.

“The Bridges of Madison County” was made on location in Madison County. A reconstructed farmhouse provided the key set, with additional sequences shot in Winterset and Adel, along with the actual Roseman and Hollowell covered bridges. Locations were coordinated with the full cooperation of the Iowa Film Commission, Madison County and Adel Chambers of Commerce, and the Madison County Covered Bridge Preservation Society.

The Musical

In February 2014, this romantic and well-known story became a Broadway musical. The production opened at the Gerald Schoenfeld Theater on West 45th Street in the Theater District of Manhattan in New York City. Starring Kelly O’Hara as Francesca Johnson and Steve Pasquale as Robert Kincaid, the production was awarded two Tony Awards based on the musical score developed by Tony Award-winning composer Jason Robert Brown (“Parade,” “The Last Five Years”).

In March 2015, it was announced that the Broadway musical would launch a national tour beginning in central Iowa. With direction by Tony Award winner Bartlett Sher (“South Pacific,” “The Light in the Piazza”), and book by Pulitzer Prize winner Marcia Norman (“The Secret Garden,” “The Color Purple”), the tour launched at the Des Moines Civic Center on Nov. 28, 2015. The tour visited 18 cities throughout the United States and concluded July 24, 2016. ■

Winterset Courthouse Historic District

The nine-block area surrounding the Madison County Courthouse was added to the National Historic Register in 2014 as the Courthouse Historic District. Of the 104 buildings, 78 are contributing structures to the District due to their historical authenticity. The oldest buildings are from the 1860s, and each building that faces the Courthouse was in place before 1899. Building materials include both limestone and brick, with varying styles of architecture.

The Downtown Façade Rehabilitation Project was completed in 2020 and provided 17 buildings in the Historic District with much-needed repairs. They now exhibit a fresh look and are historically preserved to last many more years into the future.

A self-guided walking tour highlighting interesting buildings is available. Stop by the Madison County Chamber of Commerce to pick up a free booklet.

Madison County Courthouse

The picturesque Madison County Courthouse, built in 1876 at the then-impressive cost of $116,087, was designed by French-born architect Alfred H. Piquenard, planner for both the Iowa and Illinois State capitols. His original hand-written drawings and specifications have been preserved.

Madison County's first courthouse was a one-story double log cabin that stood one block east of the current Courthouse Square where Monumental Park is located.

The developing county soon outgrew the log walls, so a two-story stone courthouse was built in the town square in 1868. It looked quite similar to the present courthouse but unfortunately burned down due to an undetermined cause in October 1875, without insurance. Although the county's records were saved, the dome collapsed to the basement floor and the bell melted.

Exterior Features: Madison County citizens voted to spend the needed funds to build another Courthouse in its place using the original design, but with improvements. The building is in the form of a Greek Cross, embracing the features of the late Renaissance style with four stone porticos and rising columns. Massive doors of walnut and oak greet those who enter from every direction. Native limestone quarried in the county was crafted for the exterior, and local wood was hand-carved to adorn the interior by building superintendent Judge William H. Lewis.

Worried of another fire, the basement ceilings are constructed of brick arches, leveled with concrete and walls of stone block, some of which was reused from the remains of the first stone courthouse. The dome is made of metal and rises 122 feet.

When completed in 1878, it was reported, "The work done is both in material and workmanship of the best kind and the hardware of the best bronze throughout, much finer than any other public building in this part of the west."

At one time, the cupola held a weather vane. After deteriorating over time, it was replaced with a design crafted by local workmen in 1954.

The four-faced clock has provided the time to Winterset and the bell in the dome has sounded the hour since 1878. The bell was removed in 2011 due to weight concerns and is now on display on a limestone base in the northeast corner of the Courtyard. A recording of its sound has taken over the hourly duties; plus, those same speakers play music for holidays and special occasions.

Large maple trees grace the lawn, lending shade to many during the summer. Other plantings beautify the courtyard providing a serene setting and adding to the grandeur of the Courthouse. Current events such as the annual Madison County Covered Bridge Festival make the Courthouse the centerpiece of their celebration.

Interior Features: After climbing the outside portico stairs and opening an original heavy door, you are in the heart of Madison County government. The four corners of the first floor contain the offices of the County Auditor, Recorder, Assessor and Treasurer, along with the Supervisors' Office. Records stored here date back to the first log cabin Courthouse. Along the walls of the first floor, you will see tributes to Madison County men and women who served in World War I, World War II, the Korean War, the Vietnam War and Operation Desert Storm. Madison County takes great pride in the names of those listed here. In the center of the Greek cross design is a memorial fountain, pointing out other historic locations within Madison County.

From the second floor, the public accesses the courtroom, which was remodeled in 1966 with a dropped ceiling as was the style at that time. The carved wood railings and court pews are original to the courtroom. The picture of Abraham Lincoln on the wall also presided in the first stone Courthouse.

The courtroom was once over 22 feet in height and extended into the third floor. The spectators' balcony, plaster ceiling medallions, and ornate columns are still in place. Additional county offices are located on the third floor along with access to the dome; however, no one is allowed to climb the steep stairs due to safety concerns.

Carver Memorial Park

Located one block east of the Courthouse on Court Avenue Carver Park was established in 1988. George Washington Carver, renowned agricultural scientist and inventor who developed hundreds of products using peanuts, sweet potatoes and soybeans, spent time in Winterset, and his time in the community has been commemorated with the establishment of Carver Memorial Park.

This quiet and inviting park is located next to the site of the former Shults Hotel, where Carver worked as a cook for a time during the two years he was in Winterset. The "Dream Big Dreams" mural, created by Madison County children, was installed in 2014 to enhance the peaceful atmosphere among the plantings.

courthouse. Four abandoned Civil War cannons and carriages were later added to the park thanks to the efforts of Col. Henry Johnson Brodhead Cummings, a Madison County Civil War hero, editor of the Madisonian newspaper, and legislator in the U.S. House of Representatives. In 1974, the monument's original limestone foundation was repaired and an 1867 time capsule was found. It contained various coins, a button from a Union uniform, an 1866 business directory and various newspapers, both local and from major U.S. cities. These items are now housed at the Madison County Historical Museum.

Madison County Freedom Rock

Half block east of John Wayne Drive on Washington St., Winterset. Dedicated in August 2017

Madison County Freedom Rock, the 64th completed by artist Ray "Bubba" Sorensen from Greenfield, has four separate tributes painted on it. One honors the Quilts of Valor Foundation, which has its national headquarters in Winterset, with the depiction of a female veteran draped in a quilt. Another pays tribute to Madison County veterans George Stout and Glenn Martin. Stout led the WWII U.S. Army unit devoted to recovering art that had been plundered by the Nazis. Martin created the Glenn L. Martin Company, where aircraft for the military was designed, including the Martin B-10 bomber. A third tribute is paid to four Madison County young men who were taken prisoners of war: Carl Hircock, Larry Spencer, Eddie Bengé and Don Thomas. The final tribute is to John Wayne, with four likenesses representing his many military movie roles.

Madison County Historical Complex

815 S. Second Ave., Winterset

The Madison County Historical Complex, which is owned and managed by the Madison County Historical Society, includes 18 acres and 14 buildings, including the Madison County Museum, which opened to the public during the Covered Bridge Festival in October 1980. The next 10 years saw the donation of the Post Office, the Bevington Kaser house (a restored 1856 brick Victorian mansion that sits prominently at the top of the hill), the Zion Church, the Gazebo, the addition of the west wing, and the relocation of the train depot from downtown to the complex.

In 1991, the McKee barn was built to house the farm tools and implements in the collection, and the North River School was deeded to the society. Later in that same decade, the Law Office and Martin Gas Station were moved to the complex, and the society established an endowment fund.

In addition to filling the important role of preserving Madison County history for current residents and future generations to learn from, the Madison County Historical Society serves the community through a variety of educational and outreach programs. It also hosts community events such as the Old Fashioned Christmas and reindeer visits and the Fun in the Sun car show. During the annual Covered Bridge Festival, the museum complex often hosts Civil War re-enactors, heritage skill demonstrators like blacksmiths and woodworkers, horse-drawn wagon rides, special displays dedicated to Madison County history and/or the festival's theme, and the Passport to the Past program.

The Delicious Apple

Jesse Hiatt was a farmer who discovered an unusual seedling in his apple orchard in 1872. He carefully nurtured the tree and found its first fruit to be of a remarkable flavor. A descendant of the original Delicious apple tree still stands just north of Peru.

George Stout Story Book

This scenic byway grant-funded public art piece by Michael Goodall is located in Winterset along the Covered Bridges Scenic Byway on the corner of Washington Street and First Avenue as a tribute to Winterset native George Stout. Because of his art conservation background, he was one of the first recruited to the Monuments, Fine Arts, and Archives section.
